Mr Marsten

With the recent, and unfortunate, deaths of the Council, there have opened up a number of positions that require filling. Appropriate candidates have been hard to find and, after a very thorough selection process, it is with the King's greatest pleasure that I am to inform you that you are hereby invited to rejoin the ranks of the Royal Britannian Guard as Captain of the Royal Guard.

As one who has served as an officer for the Royal Guard in times past, men and women alike will look to you for your leadership and guidance. The circumstances that surrounded your previous departure are of no
concern to King Casca.
We hope that you will accept this invitation and be proud to serve the new council and Britannia.

Yours Sincerely,
The Royal Office of King
Casca
